

Priority: The school's curriculum meets the requirements of the new Ofsted framework.

Why are we doing this?

Along with all other schools, the requirements of the new Ofsted framework in 2019 have necessitated a review of aspects of our curriculum provision.

Intent, Implementation, Impact

As a team, we are creating our Intent, Implementation, Impact statement which will underpin our curriculum.

Know more, do more, remember more!

One of the key aspects of the new Ofsted framework is ensuring that the children's learning builds on things that they have already encountered. This also ties in with our focus on developing pupils' vocabulary and reading skills. We will be introducing knowledge organisers and will also be looking at ways to improve memory.

Staff CPD

As a staff, we are very knowledgeable and skilled in a range of different subjects but we can't all be experts at everything! We are dedicating some of our staff meetings and INSET days to sharing our knowledge and skills and learning from each other. We will also be extending our distributed leadership model by extending the roles of Subject Leaders.

What impact will this have?

The school's curriculum intent and implementation will be embedded securely and effectively across the school with a focus on high-quality teaching and learning.

Teachers' subject and pedagogical and knowledge consistently builds and develops over time; effective practice is shared.

Teaching is designed to help pupils to remember long-term the content they have been taught and to integrate new knowledge into larger ideas.
