

Wizarding Values

Take a card from the sorting hat to find out who you are.

In the wizarding world you can be:

A House elf

A wizard from a pure blood family

A goblin

A wizard from a muggle family or a half-blond wizard

What does this mean?

In the wizarding world you are now split
Some wizards are born to serve and others not.

Some wizards have wands and some not

Hermione had strong feelings about this.

S – P – E – W!’ said Hermione hotly. ‘I was going to put Stop the Outrageous Abuse of Our Fellow Magical Creatures and Campaign for a Change in Their Legal Status – but it wouldn’t fit. So that’s the heading of our manifesto.’

She brandished the sheaf of parchment at them.

‘I’ve been researching it thoroughly in the library. Elf enslavement goes back centuries. I can’t believe no one’s done anything about it before now.’

‘Hermione – open your ears,’ said Ron loudly. ‘They. Like. It. They like being enslaved!’

‘Our short-term aims,’ said Hermione, speaking even more loudly than Ron, and acting as though she hadn’t heard a word, ‘are to secure house-elves fair wages and working conditions. Our long-term aims include changing the law about non-wand-use, and trying to get an elf into the Department for the Regulation and Control of Magical Creatures, because they’re shockingly under-represented.’

They were all fighting to stop Voldemort

What if Voldemort got in?

What would change and how would you be affected?

Not being pure blood became a crime

If you are not a pure blood wizard

- Take one of the armbands so that it is easy to see you
- Give in your wands.
- Take your place on the floor with the elves and goblins

How does it feel now?

In the 1930's Jewish people were made to wear the Star of David by Hitler's government so that they could be recognised.

In 1939 the British government started a programme called the Kindertransport which rescued Jewish children from Germany, Austria and Czechoslovakia before the outbreak of WWII

The children were fostered by British families
In all, over 10,000 children are rescued

This act showed compassion, kindness and most importantly tolerance.

What do we mean by tolerance?
