The Woodland Nursery

This week at Nursery we have continued with our focus on Stickman. The children have been considering some of the events in the story and answering questions such as 'Is it alright to make people do things they don't want to?' and "How can we help somebody who is missing their family?" We have had some VERY enlightening discussions. Some children have managed to bring in a photo of their family and happily told all the other children all about them, what they are like and what they do. Such lovely comments such as "My Daddy protects me" and "My mummy just loves me, that's her job!" We have also been making bread sticks (with varying degrees of success), exploring clay and mark making with sticks, building houses for stickman in the classroom and in the woods and of course going on a lovely welly walk to play pooh sticks. The sun shone, the swans swam and lots of children commented on the similarities of the day to the pictures in the book. The children astounded us with their stamina, resilience and super behaviour-all credit to you. Many thanks to our parent helpers on the day for making it possible to enjoy our local environment.

Special notices

We have a new notice board in the corridor where the children's pegs are. Letters to go home will be displayed on here so please check everyday so that you don't miss out on important information or events.

Don't forget to check Tapestry for highlights of what your child has been up to at Nursery. If your login has run out please see Mrs Gill in the school office or one of the staff in the Woodlands setting.

Our pooh stick races were very exciting and every single child was convinced that they'd won-bonus!
