The Woodland Nursery

Our Stickman story got off to a flying start this week with children joining in with this modern classic from Julia Donaldson. As with most of her books the text is done in rhyme and the children were quickly able to join in as they could hear which word was coming next in the text. We have been out in our woods looking for Stickman and had the challenge task of finding all kinds of sticks, bendy, knobbly, straight and lots more. The children even came up with their own words to describe their sticks. We have been using sticks for mark making in the mud as well as making sticks into all kinds of things, wands, cutlasses and of course our very own Stickmen. The children have had support to make their Stickman but made all the decisions about what to include and where to put things. We have some truly inspired Stickmen to display! We have of course been continuing with our sound work by playing listening games and have been practising saying the number names in the right order. Not long until Christmas madness begins...brace yourselves....

Special notices

Thank you to those of you who have bought in a photograph for Our Family Tree. As part of our topic we will be using the pictures to talk about our own families so please send one in so that your child has a prompt when chatting with an adult.

We have a new notice board in the corridor where the children's pegs are. Letters to go home will be displayed on here so please check everyday so that you don't miss out on important information or events.

Many thanks

After lunch we have been enjoying a spot of Cosmic Yoga's version of the Bear Hunt. Google it-it's great fun!

On Friday 29th November we will be going on a Welly walk down to the boating lake to race Pooh sticks and visit the play ground on the sea front. Ideally we need an extra 4 adults to accompany us. If you can help please let a member of staff know-first come, first served!
